PENROSE PLANS GREATER TAXES TO AVOID DEFICIT

G. O. P. Leader Loses Command of Majority of Senate Finance Committee.

By J. BART CAMPBELL, International News Service.
Unconvinced that the Administration can effect a saving of $350,000, 000 in Government expenditures for the current fiscal year, as estimated by Secretary Mellon and Budget Director Dawes, Senator Penrose and his Republican associates of the Senate Finance Committee are today bent upon raising what they themselves regard as sufficient revenue to avoid a deficit.
The continued silence of the Navy Department as to the possibility of it being able to make a saving is one of the chief factors of a situation which has developed a wide divergence of opinion between committee members and the Treasury Department.

A report has reached committee members that no definite fiscal policy for the Navy Department is likely to be announced until after the approaching Washington conference has tackled limitation of armaments.
They have also heard that the department already has under preparation a deficiency bill for early presentation to Congress, and that some high naval officers are not counting on the Washington conference in making their calculations for the navy's future needs.

Penrose and his colleagues expect to complete their revised edition of the House tax bill today. They occupy the strange position of the longer commanding a majority of the committee.

There are ten Republicans and six Democratic members of it. Two Republicans—La Follette, of Wisconsin, and Smoot, of Utah—entertain views regarding proposed tax legislation which are different from those of Penrose and his associates.

There are, therefore, only eight Republican members supporting the Penrose bill—the committee being practically tied—although the measure is expected to be known as the committee bill, in accordance with Senate custom, when it is reported.

If Senator McCumber of North Dakota, another Republican committee member who entertains some independent views regarding revenue revision, should refuse to go along with Penrose the latter would be left with but six votes besides his own.

SLEEPWALKING DEFENSE

WINS WOMAN FREEDOM

LANCASTER, Pa., Sept. 16.—Mrs. Clara Kibler, of Neffsville, tried on a charge of murdering her husband, John C. Kibler, as he lay asleep in bed last May 12, was acquitted yesterday.

The jury went out about 4 o'clock and found a verdict soon after midnight, after taking five ballots.
The Commonwealth sought conviction on the ground that the accused deliberately planned the murder. The defense was a plea of somnambulism, claiming that the shots were fired while the woman was dreaming of a burglar's approach.

ROBBER CLAIMS LORTON JAIL IS HORROR PRISON

Man, Captured After Escape, Says He Was Hung Up By Wrists and Shackled.

Captured in San Francisco, where he fled after escaping from the District reformatory at Lorton, Calvin L. Savage, under sentence of five years for alleged complicity in the theft of more than $17,000 worth of jewelry from Mrs. Walter F. Hayner, of a Burlington Apartments, was brought back to the institution Wednesday by Supt. M. M. Barnard.

It was the second escape of Savage from the reformatory. He claims to have fled to San Francisco to support his wife and two children, who, he says, are in destitute condition because of his confinement in prison.

Says He's Innocent.
Savage denies stealing Mrs. Hayner's jewelry, declaring he was innocent when convicted.

When Savage made his first escape he was captured within the grounds of the institution. He was placed in a dark cell and when he again was allowed the freedom of the grounds made the second escape, going to San Francisco.

Just before leaving San Francisco with Superintendent Barnard a week ago, Savage wrote The Times a letter in which he declares he had been subjected to cruel treatment while confined at the reformatory. "My wife Anna and two girls," wrote Savage, "became dependent upon the District after I had been committed to the reformatory on March 2, 1920, and the Associated Charities denied it proper to send her and the children to Los Angeles."

"I planned to run away from the prison, being distracted over my wife's departure. When I fled, was caught and brought back on my first escape, I was shackled with a heavy chain permanently riveted about my ankles and confined in a damp, concrete barrel cell. I also was made to dig tree stumps when not locked in the cell."

Hung Up By Wrists, He Says.
"Sores formed upon my legs, the daily weight of the chains increased, my health became very poor, malnutrition of body in general and from too scant and sour worm-infected food. My mental condition became unbalanced and in August, I awakened in the hospital with twenty-four superficial cuts on my throat and wrists. Regaining consciousness and strength, I was immediately returned to punishment cells and to the digging of tree stumps."

"It is no uncommon thing to be hung up by the wrists for fifteen hours a day—three to seven days, while shackled."
"If eventually became so distraught that I removed a bar from my cell and the shackles from my legs on December 20, 1920, and successfully escaped, working and begging my way across the country and ending in Los Angeles on March 15, 1921. I found my wife and children penniless. We all were happy at our reunion, until August 22, 1921, when my identity became known and I was arrested while engaged at washing windows in a public building."

Children Sent to Asylum.
Savage stated that following his arrest in Los Angeles his children were taken by the Board of Charities there and committed to an asylum.

"I leave today with Superintendent Barnard," further stated Savage in his letter, "and will no doubt resume the suffering where I left off when I fled the institution."

Officials at the institution deny that Savage had been given poor food and had been treated cruelly. They claim he had been confined in a cell because of the fear he would escape, he having once before made the attempt.

W. C. T. U. URGES BAN ON ARBUCKLE FILMS

TOLEDO, Ohio, Sept. 16.—A resolution urging the National W. C. T. U. to take action against the showing of Roscoe Arbuckle films in any city of the country was introduced by Mrs. Emily Winslow, secretary, and unanimously passed at the County Convention of the W. C. T. U. here yesterday.

Following a discussion on law enforcement by four club women, Mrs. Emily Winslow introduced a motion that the convention record by vote its protest against "boozie parties."
"Let us sound a warning to people in this country who hold such parties that they must stop," declared Mrs. Lulu T. Gleason, county president. "It is outrageous that in a country where prohibition is supposedly the law that such affairs as the Arbuckle party could happen. Boozie parties must be stopped."

STAR SPANGLED BANNER ADVOCATED AS U. S. ANTHEM

BALTIMORE, Sept. 16.—Congressman J. Charles Linthicum, of Maryland, introduced a resolution for the adoption of "The Star-Spangled Banner" as a national anthem by an act of Congress at the regular session in December, he declares.

To all intents and purposes, he says, the song is the national anthem and will continue to be considered so by virtue of having been designated as such by the Secretaries of the Navy and the War Departments.

Resolutions urging that the song be retained as the national anthem were passed at a meeting at the Hotel Belvedere of the executive board of the Daughters of the American Revolution. Mrs. Mary Adams, State regent, said that further action would be taken at the next meeting of the board. Details regarding the unveiling of a tablet on the battleship Maryland also were discussed.

WOMAN ASKS ALIMONY FROM EX-HUSBAND'S ESTATE

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—Must the estate of a deceased divorced man continue to pay weekly alimony exacted of him in his lifetime?

This question, said to be without precedent in New York, today was put before the Bronx supreme court for decision when Amelia Korber began suit against Mary Charlotte Korn, widow of her divorced husband, Edward Korn, who had been directed by the divorce court to pay her $20 weekly for the rest of her life.

Mrs. Korber asked the court to prevent the widow from disposing of any of their former husband's property until provision for continuing her alimony payments had been made.

SPIRIT OF MATE URGES SONGBIRD TO ASK DIVORCE

Temperamental Opera Star, Ganna Walska, Will Use Harvester Fortune in Fight.

PARIS, Sept. 16.—The spirit of her former husband, Dr. Frankel, of New York, urged her to commence divorce proceedings against Alexander S. Cochran, Ganna Walska, temperamental songbird, told friends here today.

Opera circles are agog with this latest development, recalling the circumstances of Walska's marriage to Frankel, who was a doctor called in to give her "psychological treatment for depression." The treatment was so successful that she fell in love with him.

Since Frankel's death, intimates of Walska allege she has frequently claimed communication with his spirit, which told her first to marry Cochran and now urges her to divorce him.

The case has aroused enormous interest in Paris society, where it is rumored that Harold F. McCormick has placed the harvest millions at Walska's disposal. This came following Cochran's announcement that he would spend his last dollar to prevent a divorce.

Arouses Great Interest.
As soon as the news of Cochran's return to Paris reached Disappe, where Walska and McCormick are both staying, McCormick jumped the first train and rushed to Paris, where he called an attorney into consultation at the Plaza.

Be Careful What You Wash Your Hair With

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is Mulsified coconut oil shampoo, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap and beats anything else all to pieces. You can get Mulsified at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy, and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff. Be sure your druggist gives you Mulsified.

FREE At Your Druggist's THIS WEEK

Your druggist will give you a 15-cent trial bottle of Palmolive Shampoo.
Accept it for your own sake and watch how your hair improves.

We Blended Palm and Olive Oils

To beautify your hair

This free 15-cent trial bottle contains ample quantity for one luxurious shampoo, no matter how heavy your hair. Use it and watch results.

See how soft it makes your hair, and how fluffy. Admire the attractive, well-groomed gloss.

Notice how clean it leaves your scalp, how all scurf and dandruff are completely removed. Ordinary shampooing doesn't get these results. They are due to palm and olive oils.

Softening cleansers

Olive oil possesses softening qualities which neutralize the drying effects of washing. Palm oil contributes body, richness and lasting qualities.

In combination they produce a thick, mild, profuse, penetrating lather which softens the scalp and reaches every root and hair cell.

This lather loosens the dandruff scales, dislodges and dissolves them, leaving the scalp and hair free to function healthfully.

Prevents Baldness

This thorough removal of dandruff, which doctors call seborrhea, is most necessary, as even the accumulation on healthy scalps injures the hair.

The dry, oily scales clog the roots of the hair, preventing proper nutrition. Soon the hair begins to fall out. Ordinary washing has little effect, often seeming to make the condition worse.

The blend of palm and olive oils you get in Palmolive softens and penetrates the scales, loosening the cap-like accumulation.

Gentle massage forces it into the tissues of the scalp, leaving it healthfully purged and clean.

Silky texture and satiny gloss

Such scientific shampooing is the basis of beauty, for it keeps both hair and scalp in perfect health.

It stimulates circulation, which carries proper nourishment to your hair. It regulates the minute oil glands which give your hair gloss and luster. Hair shampooed with Palmolive is neither brittle nor oily, but soft, glossy and silky.

Present the coupon at once and prove that these statements are true. One shampoo with the blend of palm and olive oils begins the transformation.
